

Summer Migrants & Specialties

Cape York & Wet Tropics Queensland

Inala Nature Tours

OVERVIEW

This nine-day tour is designed to target far North Queensland in the Wet Season where we have the best chance of a small number of very special migrants from Papua New Guinea, birds that have a short migration window and which visit our shores for a few months only. We take in the lowland rainforests of the incomparable Kituni-Payamu (Iron Range National Park), followed by a couple of days in the Wet Tropics, just inland from Port Douglas.

The birds we will be seeking in Kituni-Payamu are the Papuan Pitta (Erythropitta macklotii), Black-winged Monarch and Buff-breasted Paradise-kingfisher. The kingfisher can also be found in the Wet Tropics further south and we'll have a chance for them there too. Of course, there is a suite of additional amazing birds in this region that we'll also target, like Palm Cockatoo, Eclectus Parrot, Magnificent Riflebird, Frill-necked Monarch, Yellow-billed Kingfisher, Trumpet Manucode and Northern Scrub-robin, to name a few. Several of the species at the tip of Cape York occur no further south, as well as in Papua New Guinea, and represent an ancient avifauna that harks back to the last Ice Age, when there was a land bridge between Australia and PNG.

Around the Wet Tropics area our main target is Blue-faced Parrot-finch, at that time of year found in the highland rainforests. Here we will also look for other high-altitude specialties like Golden Bowerbird, Victoria's Riflebird, Tooth-billed Bowerbird, Bridled Honeyeater and Fernwren, amongst others.

DETAILED ITINERARY

Day 1. Arrive Cairns

We will meet in Cairns this afternoon and check in to our accommodation. If time allows, we can have a look along the Esplanade for shorebirds and other tropical species. In the evening, we will enjoy dinner at a local restaurant before retiring early in readiness for start of the tour tomorrow.

Accommodation: Cairns hotel (en suite rooms). Meals included: D

Days 2 & 3. Atherton and Windsor Tablelands

Today we'll head up onto the Tablelands 'behind' Cairns. We'll look for birds en route and head up into some high altitude rainforest to target Blue-faced Parrot-finch, as well as Victoria's Riflebird, Golden Bowerbird, Fernwren, Tooth-billed Bowerbird, Atherton Scrubwren, Bower's Shrike-thrush, Pied Monarch, Mountain Thornbill, Tooth-billed Bowerbird, Bridled Honeyeater, Spotted Catbird, Lovely Fairywren and Macleay's Honeyeater. Other species in the area include Pale-vented Bush-hen, Red-necked Crake, Double-eyed Fig-parrot (race macleayana), Barred Cuckoo-shrike, Cotton & Green Pygmy-goose, White-browed Crake, Great Bowerbird, Northern Fantail, Black Bittern, Grey Whistler, Black-faced, Spectacled & White-eared Monarchs and White-cheeked, Lewin's, Scarlet, White-throated & Brown-backed Honeyeaters.

At night we can try for Lesser Sooty Owl and possibly the rainforest-inhabiting lurida race of Australian Boobook, known as Little Red Boobook. Nocturnal mammals include a range of different possums like Green Ringtail, Striped, Lemuroid, Herbert River Ringtail Possums and Long-tailed Pygmy-possum, and gliders such as Yellow-bellied and Sugar Glider.

Accommodation: Atherton Tablelands for 2 nights (en suite cabins). Meals included: B, L, D each day.

Day 4. Atherton Tablelands to Cairns

Today we will bird our way down from the Atherton tablelands to Cairns targeting any birds we may not have managed on the previous days.

Accommodation: Cairns. Meals included: B, L, D.

Day 5. Fly Cairns to Lockhart River, Iron Range National Park (Kituni-Payamu).

Today we will board a flight to Lockhart River on the boundary of one of Australia's most treasured, yet remote, birding destinations: Kituni-Payamu, which is home to a host of range restricted species found nowhere else in the country. On arrival we will collect our vehicle and settle into our accommodation. If time allows, we'll head off into the national park for a look around, hopefully picking up a few birds including Black-winged Monarch, Trumpet Manucode, Fawn-breasted Bowerbird, Yellow-billed Kingfisher and hopefully, hear a Papuan Pitta calling.

Accommodation: Portland Roads House (shared toilet/bathroom). Meals included: B, L, D.

Day 6-8. Kituni-Payamu.

We have 3 full days to search the environs of the Iron Range NP, searching for the migrant Papuan Pitta, Black-winged Monarch & Buff-breasted Paradise-kingfishers. Other specialties of the area include Magnificent Riflebird, Noisy Scrub-robin, Palm Cockatoo, Red-cheeked & Eclectus Parrots, Trumpet Manucode, Black-eared Catbird, Frill-necked Monarch, Fawn-breasted Bowerbird, Green-backed, Cryptic, Tawny-breasted & White-streaked Honeyeaters, White-faced Robin, Yellow-legged Flyrobin, Tropical Scrubwren, Chestnut-breasted Cuckoo, Double-eyed Fig-parrot (race marshalli), Noisy Pitta, Fairy Gerygone (race personata), Spectacled Monarch (race albiventer), Shining Flycatcher, Pied Heron, Black-naped, Sooty & Lesser Crested Terns, Great & Lesser Frigatebird and Spotted Whistling-duck.

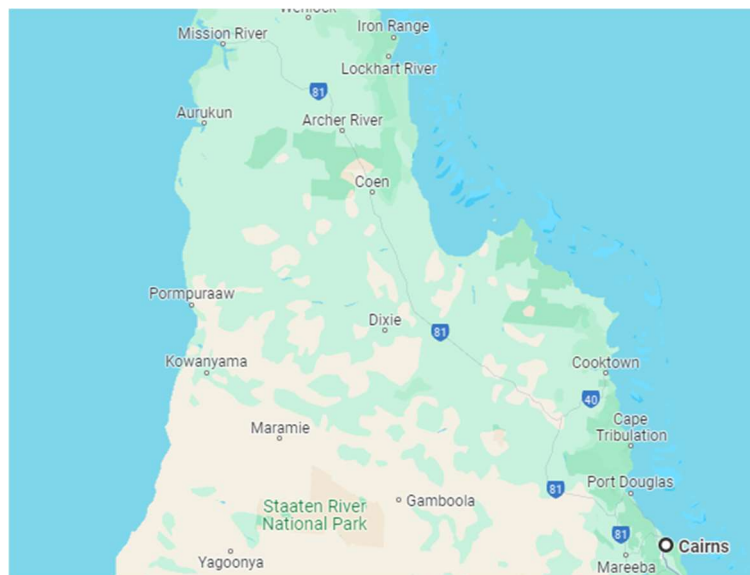

At night we'll try for a few night-birds like Marbled Frogmouth, Large-tailed Nightjar and Rufous Owl, as well as some mammals found nowhere else but here and PNG, such as Common Cuscus and Spotted Cuscus. The incredible Green Tree Python is also a possibility in the rainforest, as well as Spotted Python, Amethystine Python, Brown-headed Snake and Orange-naped Snake.

Accommodation: Portland Roads House (shared toilet/bathroom) for 3 additional nights. Meals included: B, L, D each day.

Day 9. Kituni-Payamu. Fly Lockhart River to Cairns.

This morning, we will depart Lockhart River on a flight back to Cairns airport where the tour will end.

Accommodation: none. Meals included: B.
